newlife SUMMER CREW

newlife believes in the next wave. That's you. Summer Crew is about giving our future (that's you) the opportunities they want now. So let's go. Summer 2012. We want to give you that opportunity. You can lead with youth, kids, groups, music, video production, wherever God is calling you. We have phenomenal and visionary leaders who are ready for you. Are you ready? Are you hungry? Summer Crew 2012. This will be an experience you never forget.

I remember being 18 and moving across the state to become a part of newlife. I was full of uncertainty; leaving everything I knew behind to take a chance. The guiding influence for me was that I knew God was leading me right here, at this time, for this mission. It was in those first few years, the college years, that God solidified my faith and I truly gave my everything to Jesus.

Where is God leading you? Is your faith solid? Have you given everything?

This could be the summer that Jesus changes everything.

On the Mission, Mark M.

Heart

newlife is all about people becoming the church. We are on the mission with Jesus. We are Jesus' apprentices. First thing you need to know, you've got what it takes. Seriously. Jesus said you'll do greater things. Second thing you need to know, don't wait until you graduate to get going. Mark Zuckerberg started Facebook in college. Steve Jobs and Apple... college. Barack Obama and politics... college.

What about you?
What is Jesus leading you to?

And what about discipleship? It seems like you go through college without someone who actually wants to see you developed personally. It is rare to have a professor that will give you that. Well, newlife pastors want to help. We are going to place 4 students with one pastor and their job for the summer is to pour into you. Doesn't that sound awesome?

Opportunities like no other and the chance to be developed by great leaders... where do I sign up?
